Lisa's my best friend, but we sometimes argue. We had an awful argument at school today, so I'm a bit fed up at the moment. I don't like people sometimes. I think I prefer animals. I think dogs are nicer than people. Take Sam, for example, my dog. He's always pleased to see me. He's never in a bad mood. Not like my parents – they're often in a bad mood! Sam always understands me. The only problem is, he can't talk to me. But I like talking to Lisa. I've got a lot of other friends, but they aren't as funny as Lisa. Mmm. I think I'll send her a text message, just to say hello ...

Last Saturday it was hot and sunny so Pete and I went to a campsite near the beach. We took our sleeping bags and an old tent with us. In the morning we went swimming. The sea was very cold. In the afternoon we played volleyball on the beach with some other boys. We had something to eat at the café and we went to bed at about half past ten. But we only slept for about an hour, because then it started to rain. After a few minutes the rain started to come into our tent and then into our sleeping bags. The tent had a hole in it. We went home on Sunday morning. It was a very short trip.

Take a trip to Egypt with Magic Holidays. You'll fly to Cairo, the largest city in Africa. You'll spend two nights at the Hilton Hotel. You'll see the Pyramids and the Sphinx. Then we'll take you to Luxor. In Luxor, you'll visit the Valley of the Kings. The Egyptians buried their dead kings there three thousand years ago. You'll fly in a balloon above the famous valley. After that you'll spend three days on a boat on the River Nile. We'll take you to Abu Simbel and you'll see the great statues of Rameses the second. Each statue is more than twenty metres tall. Finally we'll take you back to Cairo. On the last day of your holiday you'll ride a camel in the desert! You'll fall in love with Egypt. You won't be disappointed.

Tapescript

In Britain today, 'Mr Average' is two metres tall and weighs 78.9 kilos. He takes size nine shoes. He eats about 2,500 calories a day, and he exercises twice a week.

The average man in Britain works harder than in most other European countries. Mr Average works for 43.6 hours a week, but many people in Britain work for much longer than that. He goes to work by car and he spends about 40 minutes travelling to and from work.

The average British man sleeps for 45 hours a week. He watches TV for an average of four hours a day. He spends at least an hour a day on the internet. He's got a smartphone and he checks his phone more than a hundred times a day.

The average man gets married when he's 32 – much later than his mother and father. He lives for longer too, and Mr Average will die when he is 79.

Lisa is a member of the international environmental group Greenpeace and she belongs to her local Greenpeace group. They're organising a talk about the work of Greenpeace, and Lisa is giving details about it on the local radio.

Presenter: I've got Lisa here, who's a member of our local Greenpeace group. And she's going to tell us about an interesting talk that's coming up soon. Lisa?

Lisa: Thanks very much. Yes ... well, the talk will take place at St. Mark's Hall, Park Road on Friday 5th March. It starts at 7.30. Our speaker will be Justin Carter from the international environmental group Greenpeace. Justin works at Greenpeace's head office in Amsterdam, in Holland, and at the moment he's here in the UK to give a series of talks all over the country. Justin will talk about the history of Greenpeace, about how it began in Vancouver, Canada, in the early 1970s. He'll tell us about their early campaigns against the construction of nuclear power stations, and their campaign to save the whale. He'll also give us the latest news on some of Greenpeace's more recent campaigns – the fight to stop oil companies from drilling for oil in the Arctic, their campaign to stop people from buying wood from the Amazon rainforest, and their campaign to stop the huge fishing boats that are destroying thousands of sea creatures. After the talk, you'll have a chance to ask questions and speak to Justin personally. And you'll get a free drink – that's included in the price of the ticket – and you'll meet some nice people too! So please come, I'm sure you'll enjoy it. Oh yes, tickets are five pounds, and you can get one at the door. And all the money will go to Greenpeace.

Presenter: Sounds interesting. Thanks, Lisa. And now we're going to hear a song by ...
